Ideal Can is moving to a 3-fold bigger plant and headquarters office.

As a rapidly growing SME, Ideal Can outgrew its first plant in a little over a year. With the arrival of new production lines, the La Guadeloupe plant no longer had enough space to meet the production needs. Consequently, the company had no choice but to move to a bigger plant.

This new plant is located in Saint-Apollinaire, QC. While this relocation offers a more strategic location that is only minutes away from the Trans-Canada Highway, it also facilitates product handling and transportation.

Ideal Can will be operational in the new factory as of August 1, 2023.
